Event Reminders

Saturday 9th October 10:00 - Engine Maintenance and Safety Morning

Deadline for next week's Lecture sign-up - Friday 8th

Engine Maintenance and Safety Morning

This event is open to all members. New members are particularly welcome. No pre-booking or ticket is required.

Safety and a well-maintained boat will be at the top of the agenda for all who take to the water, whether it be sailing or motorboating. This event is designed to offer some essential advice to help equip you against some emergencies.

CLIVE ROCHFORD of Owen Haisell Services Ltd will speak about engine maintenance with advice on how to deal with common problems at sea and with Autumn on its way, some essential tips for winter lay-up.

STEVE BILLETT and DAVID MONKS, Water Safety Officers for the RNLI, will together first talk about the risks, prevention and possible remedies for dealing with fire on board at sea. This leads on to one of the principal reasons for abandonment and the complexities around the launching of a life raft.

Then, not to be missed, there will be a REAL-LIFE demonstration of a life raft launch off the club pontoon followed by a demonstration of the practical issues around recovering crew into the life raft.

We also have a suitably elderly and long overdue service life raft which has kindly been donated which will be put to the test. All of which will we hope will amplify why abandoning to life raft really is the point of last resort and encourage you to check your safety equipment servicing is bang up to date.

Please note the start time for this event is 10.00am and not 11.00am as shown on the latest published calendar. We expect the event to conclude by approximately 12.30pm

As a courtesy to our speakers and fellow members and guests, attendees are respectfully asked to wear a face mask for the indoor session.

Food order deadline for next week's Lecture - this Friday 8th October!

Our next lecture is on the Race to the Admiralty - The Trafalgar Way Story by Kathy Brown - Wednesday 13th October 18:30

On the morning of November 4th 1805, news reached British shores of Nelson's decisive victory over the combined fleets of Napoleon at Trafalgar, and of the death of our nation's hero. The Trafalgar Way story relates in gripping fashion the fascinating journey of Lt John Richards Lapenotiere, the unassuming naval commander who would overcome all manner of challenges as he raced to the Admiralty with the official dispatches and the chance to earn himself a place in history.

Meal of the evening:

Roasted Breast of Chicken with Ratatouille, Mashed Potato & Green vegetables
- £13.50

PLEASE EMAIL events@rlymyc.org.uk to confirm your attendance to eat by Friday 8th October. You will be contacted to take payment over the phone

All rooms will be well ventilated with the CO2 monitored and recorded each week. Do remember to bring a layer to keep warm as windows may be open.
